Dr. Paul Keall is a Professor at the University of Sydney and Director of the Image X Institute. His main scientific interests involve image guided radiation therapy and accounting for anatomic and physiologic changes in healthy and pathologic tissue throughout a radiation treatment course. These research activities have resulted in over 350 scientific articles and several awards and honours. He has developed new methods for medical imaging and image guided radiation therapy. Several of these innovations have been translated to clinical practice for improved health care.
